RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.
 THE DAILY BULLETIN will be delivered to any part of the city at 6 cents a week, or one year for $3.
 THE DAILY BULLETIN to any postoffice in the United States, postage prepaid, at twenty-five cents per month or three dollars per year.

FRIDAY EVEN'G, JAN. 20, 1888.

The Louisville Times doesn't seem to be much worried over the strike it and the Courier-Journal have on hand. To the contrary it seems to be taking things very coolly and announces to the strikers and the public generally that it will soon spread itself—enlarge to an eight-page paper, without any increase in price. You can't down a good newspaper any more than you can a good man.

At Versailles next Monday, the County Magistrates will be asked to submit to the voters of Woodford County a proposition to subscribe $50,000 to the stock of the Woodford Railroad Company, recently organized to build a road from Lawrenceburg via Versailles to Lexington, payable when the road is finished from Lawrenceburg to Gerogetown and from Versailles to Lexington. This, with the amount already subscribed to the Versailles and Maidway Railroad will make a total cost to the county of $100,000 for twenty-eight miles of road.

AND now the claim is made that Senator Sherman isn't such "big pertaters" after all as a financier—that he got his idea of the great refunding act for which he was credited a few years ago from the late Hon. Madison C. Johnson, of Lexington. If such is really true, the Senator should let a deluded public know it at once. "Every tub should stand on its own bottom"—if it has one. But the fact that this distinguished Ohioan's tariff speech a few days ago was mainly a rehash of Blaine's letter will go far towards leading the public to believe that the Senator's tub hasn't got much of a bottom to stand on, after all.

The Kentucky Senate has spent much valuable time in discussing the Blair bill, a measure that is pending away off yonder in Congress. What are those fellows at Frankfort paid for anyhow? What were they sent to Frankfort for? No doubt their opinions will exert a powerful influence at Washington, but if the Legislators really wish to fritter away their time in useless talk they should get up a little Blair bill of their own. True, they are each making five dollars a day at it, but the taxpayers have to pay for all their "chin music." The Senators should resolve to hereafter attend to their own business, and leave the Blair bill to Congress.

HERE we have been led to believe that Los Angeles was as near Paradise as one could get here on earth—that there in that booming city of California man was constantly regaled with the sweet perfumes and delightful odors of the buds and blossoms of the ever-blooming flowers, and lived on delicious fruits and all that—but we have been cruelly deceived. Read the following from a late issue of a paper published in that city. It tells the whole story:

"The odors that come from the mud in the streets of Los Angeles fairly rival the famed seven stinks of Cologne. They are not especially pleasant to people who come here expecting the air to be heavy with the fragrance of orange blossoms. The Council should see that all business streets are paved before another winter comes."

THE editors of the Jessamine Journal, the Paris Kentuckian and the Harrodsburg Democrat openly declare that they want leap year proposals. That is all right, girls, but the editor of the tri-state column is waiting breathlessly to hear from you also. An Ohio editor is worth three Kentucky ones any time.—Cincinnati Post.

Hear him talk! What gall some of these Buckeye newspaper men do have! Just hold your breath if you wish to, Mr. tri-state-column editor, but your waiting, we opine, will be rather prolonged. The girls ought to know that an editor, or any other fellow, who makes such a bold bid for leap year proposals, isn't worth having, else he would have been "taken" long ago. We venture the assertion that the above named editors are fossilized quill-shovers, have been refused time and again, and make this open proposal in hopes of deluding and catching some old maid.

Years Teach More Than Books.
 Among other valuable lessons imparted by this teacher is the fact that for a very long time Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has been the prince of liver correctives and blood purifiers, being the household physician of the poor man, and the able consulting physician to the rich patient, and praised by all for its magnificent service and efficacy in all diseases of a chronic nature, as malarial poisoning, ailments of the respiratory and digestive systems, liver disease and in all cases where the use of an alterative remedy is indicated.

CHINESE MONEY LENDING SYSTEM.

The Plan of a "Woo-ey"—Shares and Shareholders—Heavy Premiums.
 The Chinese have a way of borrowing and lending money under a system that they call a Woo-ey, that allows its members to borrow money in a stated sum and repay it by installments. Any member of a Woo-ey who takes a share and does not wish to borrow himself obtains a good interest on the money he invests. The plan of a Woo-ey is as follows: Ah Sing wants to borrow $100 and repay it in installments, so he starts a Woo-ey; his first step is to find twenty persons who are willing to take a $5 share in a $100 Woo-ey. Ah Sing is known as the Woo-ey Tow, or head of the Woo-ey; the shareholders are known as Woo-ey Chi, or children of the Woo-ey. The Woo-ey lasts for twenty months; each Woo-ey Chi pays in $5 to the Woo-ey Tow, so that Ah Sing obtains his $100. At the end of the month Ah Sing goes to each of the shareholders and asks for bids for the next loan; each member writes his name and the amount of interest he is willing to pay on a slip of paper. Every member has the right of borrowing money once during the Woo-ey. After the bids are all received they are opened and read and the money lent to the highest bidder. We will suppose that 2 per cent is the highest bid. Ah Sing, who now pays the first installment, has to pay in the full amount of $5, while the others deduct the 2 per cent, and pay in $4.90. When the next installment falls due there are two members who have to pay in the full amount, and so the Woo-ey runs on.

At the end of fifteen or sixteen months the interest offered is often as high as 25 or 30 per cent, but as fifteen of the members have borrowed, and so have to pay in the full amount of $5, it is only the four or five left who get the benefit of the heavy interest. Sometimes toward the last of the Woo-ey, when two or three different ones wish to borrow, the rates offered are often as high as 75 per cent, and in one instance that I know of, just before the Chinese New Year, 100 per cent was bid on a $5 Woo-ey. As there were three members that had not borrowed, the hard up Celestial had only to pay the heavy premium to two men. Sometimes the Woo-ey is as low as fifty cents a share, and I have known of Woo-ey's as high as $50 a share. Those who go into a Woo-ey as an investment, and do not borrow themselves, generally get a large interest for their money.—San Francisco Cor. Chicago Herald.

Elia Wheeler Wilcox at Work.
 "I like to be interrupted," said Elia Wheeler Wilcox, "and that is one reason why I like New York; there is no other place where interruption comes so easily."

"No, I am not one of the poets who fly to nature. I don't mean any disrespect to nature; the pathless forests are very fine things in themselves, but they don't inspire me like human beings, human thoughts and human doings. I want to be among people and feel the pulse of humanity throb. I enjoy having my fellow creatures about me. I like to hear the teams rattle by in the street. I like to stop work now and then and go out and walk down town, and see the world busy as it is busy here in the city every day."

"I believe I write best with people about me in the room. Of course, I shouldn't wish to feel that they were dependent on me for entertainment, but I like the atmosphere of a social company, chatting among themselves and speaking to me now and then. I can join in the talk and then go back to pen and paper just as readily as if I were alone."

"And you don't find the thread of your thoughts broken or confused?"

"If I stop half a dozen times I know that the lines will run just as smoothly in the end as if I had turned the key upon myself and insisted on a fine frenzy in solitude. I mean it; I like to be interrupted. It is two months ago now that a poem came to me at the theatre one night. I had time to write a few verses only, and since then I have been out of town, and I have been learning to cook and I have had other writing to do. It was not until Sunday evening that I found time to finish that poem. There were people here until 10:30, but when I was able to sit down at my writing table the stanzas came as fresh and as naturally as if the thought hadn't been interrupted for weeks in finding expression."—Eliza Putnam Heaton in Buffalo News.

A Poorly Built House.

HAMMOND, Ind., Jan. 20.—At 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, while the family of Peter Terry were quietly performing their household duties in the new house occupied by them, the house tipped from its underpinning over on the side, wrecking the house beyond repair. Mrs. Terry had a leg broken by the stove falling upon her, and their infant son was badly bruised by falling plaster. The house had been raised ten feet to admit of another story being built under it. Not being properly braced it overbalanced, with the above results. Mrs. Terry and the infant were the only parties in the house at the time.

Arrested for Smuggling.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 20.—Michael Hauck was arrested Wednesday at Hamilton, O., for smuggling $10,000 worth of watches through the New York custom house December 31, 1887. He was brought to this city by Maj. W. H. Williams, special treasury agent, and locked up as a United States prisoner. He had disposed of some of his watches at Eaton, O., and Hamilton, O., at very low prices. At the latter place he boarded with a family named Weber and kept the watches hid in a secret closet in the house.

Sensational Divorce Suit.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—A News special from St. Louis says: Mrs. Moore, who claims to be the wife of Congressman O'Neill, began a suit for divorce from O'Neill Tuesday, but dropped it on being told by friends that she must have a residence in the state to obtain a standing in the court. Learning yesterday that O'Neill's residence here was sufficient she has instructed her attorney to proceed with the case.

A Lot of Stolen Nuggets.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 20.—Oliver Gratton was arrested at the union depot last evening as he stepped off the train from Breckenridge, Col., on a warrant charging him with stealing nearly $30,000 in nuggets from the Victoria placer mine near Breckenridge. The mine belongs to Col. Ware and W. M. Hudson, who had employed Gratton to work the property for them. The prisoner's trunks were searched, and nuggets and mint certificates amounting to $18,000 or $20,000 were found, besides the deeds of several farms in Canada. Gratton denies his guilt, and says he is being persecuted by Ware and Hudson, with whom he had trouble before he left the mine. He declares he was on his way to Canada to spend the winter.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments by the County Superintendent.

NO. 17.—WASHINGTON.

Census report of pupils, 88; pupils on roll, 41; average attendance, 27.
 The trustees are George Taylor, Dr. A. K. Hunter and George Goggin. Dr. Hunter and Mr. Goggin have visited the school. The school house belongs to the town of Washington, and it does not seem that its exact status, as to the common school, has been determined. The trustees should see to this and to some necessary repairs. The furniture is quite old and not sufficient for the proper seating of the school.

Miss Mary P. Chambers is teaching this school. She is an earnest and successful teacher—full of sympathy with the children and therefore able to secure their attention and interest in the school work. She uses written work in spelling, grammar, geography and United States history. Miss Chambers writes: "I am not satisfied with the year's work, as a whole, but in some individual cases, I have had gratifying results. I have been faithful and diligent. I don't pretend to know exactly where the fault is. I have certainly succeeded in interesting the children in their work; and labored to make them independent of my assistance, or in other words, I have taught them to study."

I have no fears for the school where I find this earnest discontent on the part of the teacher; for this is the great source of all success in the school room. But deliver the children from self-satisfied teachers; such are too good for any use in the school work. They should be organized into a mutual admiration society, and retired to the seclusion of some Utopia. Miss Chambers makes, as the most important suggestion in the interest of the common school, its continuance for ten months.

NO. 24 HELENA.

Pupils reported on census, 105; number on roll, 65; average attendance, 42.

The trustees are Dr. Samuel Brough, E. E. Davis and J. R. King. They have visited the school quite often, and have manifested great interest in it. Of the patrons Mr. and Mrs. Winn Wells and Mrs. E. R. Davis have visited the school. The school has moved out of the old house into the new—a very neat building well suited in all of its appointments as a school house.

Miss Eliza B. Keyes is teaching this school. She is in the best sense a teacher. With a full sense of the responsibility of her work, she brings ability and untiring energy to its performance. Her classes always acquit themselves with great credit. It is a genuine pleasure to visit her school and witness the earnest good will, and good training too, that her pupils bring to the recitation seat. And I must mention as not least her classes in reading. She is very happy in this line of teaching. She writes: "Owing to increased numbers in attendance, we have not passed over as much ground as in former years, but there is a disposition on the part of the pupils to study and try to understand what they have gone over. In fact, I never saw more interest manifested."

The teacher who can secure this independent effort on the part of pupils is already an assured success—there is no higher praise than this work of the pupils.

BRILLIANT NUPTIALS.

A Young Man from Mason Woes and Wins One of Augusta's Fair Maids.

Marriage of Mr. William D. Cushman to Miss Mattie Ryan Greene.

The marriage of Mr. William D. Cushman and Miss Mattie Ryan Greene at Augusta last evening was one of the most brilliant social events witnessed in that city for many a day.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cushman, of Dover, and is an only child. He is a young man of splendid business and social habits, and enjoys the respect and esteem of his large circle of acquaintances. He is a relative of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McDougle, of this city, and numbers many friends here.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Jane H. Greene, and belongs to one of the old and highly esteemed families of that place. She is a young lady of many accomplishments, and looked lovely in her bridal robes as she stood at the altar in the soft light of the church and plighted her troth to him who had won her heart. She has been quite a frequent visitor in Maysville at the home of Judge Coons, and numbers many warm admirers here in this city.

The Fourth Street Presbyterian Church was the scene of the nuptials last evening. The room was handsomely decorated. At 8 o'clock the bridal party entered and the ceremony was soon over, the Rev. Mr. Robinsonson, of Louisville, officiating.

The attendants were: Miss Jennie Stroube, Augusta; Mr. Harry McDougle, Maysville; Miss Ada Coons and Mr. W. L. Sutherland, Maysville; Miss Minnie McDougle, Maysville, and Mr. Dulane B. Walcutt, Frankfort; Miss Bessie Johnson and Mr. Hal. C. Curran, Maysville; Miss Sophia Albert, Maysville, and Mr. J. W. Harris, Augusta; Miss Minnie Ashbrook, Cynthia, and Mr. James E. Threlkeld, Maysville. Miss Gertrude Green, of Covington, was the maid of honor. The ushers were Messrs. Ben Harbeson and N. Talliaferro, of Augusta, and Masters Harry Owens, of this city, and — Green, of Augusta.

After the ceremony an elegant reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Later the bridal party came to this city on the Boston, taking rooms at the St. Charles. Mr. and Mrs. Cushman left on the noon train to-day for a bridal trip to New Orleans and other cities in the South.

A long list of elegant presents attest in a slight manner the esteem in which the couple are held by their friends. The groom's presents to his bride were a handsome diamond necklace and earrings.

A PUBLIC BUILDING.

Congressman Thomas Trying His Hand at One For Maysville. Other Matters of Local Interest.

Congressman George M. Thomas has introduced bills to remove the charge of desertion from the military record of Isaac W. Lykins and Joseph P. Warder, and Mr. Warder's and Mr. Lykins' cases are now in the hands of the Committee on Military Affairs. He has also introduced a bill for the relief of William Thompson, which was referred to the Committee on Invalid Pensions.

The most important bill Mr. Thomas has so far introduced, however, at least to the people of Maysville, is an act to provide for the erection of a public building here in this city. This measure was referred to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds. Bills similar to this have been introduced at previous sessions but have never amounted to anything. It is to be hoped, however, that the "statesman from the State of Lewis" will be more successful in this matter than his predecessors.

Mr. Thomas has filed the papers in the case of W. W. Weedon with the Committee on Claims. In the case of Thomas K. Ball he has filed the papers with the Committee on War Claims, and in the case of Sallie T. Duke the papers have been filed with the Committee on Invalid Pensions.

The Maysville crowd at Muncie, Ind., seem to be getting along splendidly. Arthur M. Campbell has been placed in full charge of the Kinneair Manufacturing at a handsome salary. The rest of the crowd are well-pleased with their prospects.

THE STATE'S LAW-MAKERS.

Pointed Paragraphs About the Bills Passed or Now Pending at Frankfort.

Senator Worthington has introduced a bill to amend section 3, article 1, chapter 71, General Statutes, title Limitation of Actions.

The following are the House members on the committee to investigate Judge Cole's official conduct at Morehead and the Rowan troubles: Messrs. William Reed, P. P. Johnston, Arthur Wallace and Charles Blandford. Referring to this matter the Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Times says: "The committee will lose no time in getting to work. Boone Logan and Taylor Young are both here still, and of course, each is telling the story of the recent regretted and to be regretted troubles. Mr. Young has felt it necessary to have placed on each desk in the House and Senate, in pamphlet form, his story of the war, in which he cites letters written to and by the Logans during the troubles. It is not an unusual thing to see these two men—Logan and Young—in the retundas of the hotels, within a few feet of each other, button-holing Representatives and Senators. The sentiment is unanimous that something must be done for Rowan, but there is a difference of opinion as to what that something is."

Among the bills now pending is one to repeal the law requiring the County Attorney of each county to assist the Commonwealth's Attorney in the prosecution of criminal cases.

An act has been passed to regulate the terms of the Chancery Court of Nicholas County.

The Committee on Courts of Justice has under consideration an act to regulate the helping of examining courts and fix the fees of County Judges when sitting in same.

Representative Johnson, of Fayette, has offered a resolution providing for a reduction of the rate of taxation owing to the increased sums paid into the treasury under the new revenue law.

RAILROAD LITIGATION.

Charles Miller, of Pennsylvania, Wants Sixty-Two Thousand Dollars from the Cincinnati & South-Eastern.

Suit has been filed in the United States Court at Covington against the Cincinnati & South-Eastern Railroad Company by Charles Miller, of Pennsylvania. The plaintiff also makes Samuel Thomas and Charles E. Hodge, trustees, and H. E. Huntington party defendants. He seeks to foreclose a mortgage on the first division of the railway, being that part lying between Johnston Junction and the town of Hillsboro, in Fleming County, Kentucky. Miller claims to be the owner of part of the bonds issued by the company to Thomas and Hodge, trustees. The total amount of these bonds now outstanding and unpaid is $62,000.

Last spring Mr. H. E. Huntington purchased the entire road, right of way, &c., extending from Covington to Pound Gap, on the Virginia line, for the sum of $1,000 at a Commissioner's sale, which was made under a decree of the United States Court in the case of the Union Trust Company, of New York, against the company, and he now has possession of the road. Mr. Miller will probably find out that it is a cold day when Mr. Huntington doesn't know what he is about.

A Big Mortgage.

A big mortgage has been recorded in the County Clerk's office at Covington. It is from the Covington and Cincinnati Elevated Railroad and Transfer Bridge Company to the Metropolitan Trust Company, of New York, and is for $3,500,000, and made to secure the payments of bonds issued and sold to pay for the construction of the new railroad bridge between Cincinnati and Covington.

THE HOME RULE QUESTION

MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT IMAGINED.

Advances Made to Mr. Justin McCarthy For a Compromise—Seven Hundred Thousand More Soldiers for the German Army—Other Foreign Dispatches.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The controversy and comment excited by the assertion in a recent speech by Mr. J. G. Shaw-Lefevre that Sir Henry Drummond Wolff and another gentleman in behalf of the Conservatives attempted to negotiate with Mr. Justice McCarty, as a representative of the Parnellite party, for a virtual compromise of the Home Rule question has set many persons to wondering whether there really have not been made attempts on the part of the Tories to pave the way to a graceful withdrawal from the, in many respects, almost untenable position the government now occupies in Ireland.

Having gone so far in the enforcement of the coercion act, really further than it had intended to go when the law was passed, the government cannot possibly recede from its position without first having an understanding with the Nationalists. Nobody, of course, believes that the Parnellites would accept a compromise out of parliament that promised them anything less than they demand at the hands of that body, but the number of persons prepared to believe and who, in fact, do believe that the Tories would now almost eagerly seize upon the slightest pretext for a settlement of the present Irish situation upon any terms short of conceding the full measure of the Irish demands, and in any manner that would not stultify the party in power, is very great and rapidly increasing.

It is not generally believed that even Mr. Balfour is anxious to continue indefinitely his warfare against the league and its sympathizers, involving the wholesale imprisonment of men innocent of any crime; but he, too, has gone too far to be able to retrace his steps, or even to halt where he is, and would welcome any proposal for an armistice or a treaty of peace that would guarantee the retention of the government by the Tories, and promise the preservation of the remaining shred of his reputation for fair dealing and the possession of compassionate feeling for his fellow man.

To be sure Mr. Balfour could not individually pledge the government to any bargain with the Irish party, even if the latter were disposed to treat, which they are not, neither could Lord Salisbury himself nor any other member of the government or Tory party; but there are numerous indications that if assurances could be had that overtures looking to a cessation of hostilities would be favorably received and serious entertained by the Home Rulers, a most surprising unanimity of opinion in support of a bargain binding the government to abstain from warring upon the league, throwing innocent persons into jail, suppressing meetings, etc., would become manifest among the Tory officials.

But the Irish leaders are not to be lured into a trap by promises, nor are they disposed to place much reliance upon the genuineness of assertions of friendship and desire to bestow benefits upon Ireland coming from men who have betrayed every confidence reposed in them, even to the extent of perverting the meaning and purpose of a law of the kingdom.

Hissing Mob in a Church.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The congregation of the cathedral at Rouen yesterday was transformed into a mob by the sacrilegious attempt of a priest to work upon the minds of the people by personating God in a dialogue with another costumed priest representing the devil. The excited congregation, after hissing in vain, drowned out the voices of the priests by singing the "Marseillaise" and "En Revenant de la Meuse." The police came and attempted to run the audience out, arresting several persons. The disorder was finally stopped by the termination of the farce.

The President's Envoy to the Pope.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Americans in Rome are greatly agitated over the disgraceful action of the envoy whom President Cleveland intrusted with the duty of conveying his jubilee present to the pope. This individual has raised a scandal and has been boycotted by the American legation on personal grounds. It is highly probable that the vellum copy of the constitution will never reach the pope.

Germany to Have 700,000 More Soldiers.

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—A committee of the reichstag has prepared an amendment to the military bill relating to the period of service for the second band, which will enable men entering the active army before the twentieth year to leave the landwehr earlier. The measure will give the army in time of war nearly seven hundred thousand trained men.

Settled Without Bloodshed.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The strained relations of France with Italy, arising from a breach of consular rights by the Florence police, who searched the French consulate for papers needed in a lawsuit, will probably be adjusted without shedding the blood of 250,000 men. The trouble depressed the bourse yesterday, and several evening papers made violent attacks on Italy.

Thirty-one Prisoners Killed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 20.—A gang of prisoners being taken from southern Russia to the Caucasus rebelled and stopped the train on which they were traveling. A desperate fight took place in which eight soldiers, two gendarmes and thirty-one prisoners were killed. Twenty-one prisoners escaped.

Over an Embankment.

FREEDPORT, Ill., Jan. 20.—The Illinois Central passenger train from the west was several hours late in consequence of a bad wreck yesterday afternoon, near Apple River, Jo Davies county. A steel rod under one of the coaches broke, and the car went over a thirty-foot embankment. In it were eleven passengers, and the coach turned completely over, landing on its forward end. No one was killed. The injured are as follows: Mr. Birmingham, of Galena, hurt badly about the arms and back; Mrs. E. L. Bedford, severe injuries of the back and head; Robert McLeod, of Grant county, Wisconsin, left side injured; Miss Jennie Ransom, of Avery, Ill., bruised about head and shoulders; Arthur T. Ransom, of Colesville, Ill., fracture of a rib; Mr. H. C. Traor, of Iowa Falls, Iowa, bad bruises; Mail Agent Comstock injured badly.

Mysterious Death.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Mary Mannix, aged thirty, died this morning from the effects of a dose of Paris green. Before she died she stated that she had bought some sedative powders from a druggist near by and that she had taken one before she retired last night. She denied any desire on her part to take her life. The druggist declared that Mrs. Mannix had not been in his store for a week. The coroner will investigate.
